

Procurement assessment

Solve what's next for your optimal IT purchases.

Procuring IT products and services shouldn't be exhausting, but all too often, it is. Despite this, governments and education organizations are constantly challenged to identify procurement options that enable them to efficiently and compliantly buy the technology needed to fulfill their IT goals. It's a tough process, but not one that needs to be done alone.

If you need help getting funding actualized in relation to your procurement, SHI is here. Our contracts specialists will assist you in:

- Obtaining efficiency on the products you regularly buy.
- Assessing current contract and cooperative agreement rules to identify savings.
- Discovering new contract vehicles for which you are eligible.
- Reviewing regulations to enable federal procurement alignment.

Now is the time to put yourself in the driver's seat. With SHI as your procurement partner, you'll be better able to navigate the unique requirements for your federal funded programs and set your procurement strategy accordingly. What's more, you can set the stage on how your organization meets dollar thresholds and institutes procedures for p-cards purchases. Our specialists will show you how!

Benefits

SHI is ready to discover:

- What contracts may be right for you.
